2 Descriptions concerning Corporate Governance

General Meeting

Caverion Corporation's highest decision-making body is the General Meeting of the Shareholders. The matters to be considered at the General Meeting are determined in the Articles of Association and the Finnish Limited Liability Companies Act.

The Annual General Meeting makes decisions on adopting the financial statements, the payment of dividends, discharging the members of the Board of Directors and the President and CEO from liability, the election of the members of the Board of Directors, Chairman and Vice-Chairman and auditor and their remuneration and other matters presented to and requiring resolutions by the Annual General Meeting under the Limited Liability Companies Act.

The General Meeting is convened at least once a year. According to the Articles of Association of Caverion Corporation the Annual General Meeting shall be held annually by the end of March and it is convened by the Board of Directors.

Board of Directors

According to the Articles of Association of Caverion Corporation, the Board of Directors consists of the Chairman, Vice Chairman and three to five (3–5) members elected by the General Meeting of Shareholders.

According to the Companies Act, the Board of Directors is responsible for overseeing that the management and operations, and the supervision of accounting and financial matters of the company are appropriately organised. The Board of Directors has adopted for itself a charter, which was updated along with Board Committee charters in July 2016. In addition to regulative tasks the charter describes Board's other key activities and duties. These include i.a. the approval of company's strategic goals and the principles of risk management and governance. The Board of Directors convenes approximately once a month according to a pre-determined schedule, or whenever it deems it necessary. The Board of Directors assesses its work annually.

The term of office of the members of the Board of Directors is the time period between the end of the General Meeting in which the member is elected and the end of the next Annual General Meeting.

The Board approved diversity principles in its meeting in March 2016. The Board applies the following principles when identifying and suggesting candidates to be elected as members of the Board:

1. consider candidates who are highly qualified based on their international business experience, leadership, functional expertise, cultural understanding and personal skills and qualities;
2. consider board composition that supports Caverion Group's business now and in the future; consider diversity criteria including gender, age, ethnicity, experience, education and geographic background aiming at the increased diversity of thinking; and
3. in addition to its own search, when needed, engage qualified independent external advisors to conduct a search for candidates that meet the board's skills and diversity criteria to help achieve its diversity aspirations.

The Board aspires towards board composition in which each gender comprises at least one-third of the independent Board members.

The members of Caverion Corporation's Human Resources Committee during the period starting January 1, 2016 and ending November 15, 2016 were Ari Lehtoranta (Chairman), Anna Hyvönen and Ari Puheloinen. 3 Descriptions of internal control procedures and the main features of risk management systems

Internal Control

Under the supervision of Audit Committee and guidance by the President and CEO, Caverion Group's Finance and Governance function defines and communicates the principles related to financial reporting, maintains the common tools for accounting and reporting and prepares the financial information to be disclosed. The financial management of subsidiaries is responsible for ensuring that subsidiary reporting is carried out in accordance with the Group's policies, guidelines and instructions and applicable law.

The main internal control procedures at Caverion Group include, with reference to financial reporting, the Code of Conduct, the decision authorisation rules, the Group's Accounting Manual and the Treasury Policy. The control processes are based on common chart of accounts, common accounting tool (SAP) and appropriately automated interfaces between different systems in the monthly reporting process. An essential process of internal control is the quarterly held follow-up meetings during which Group management reviews every division's financial position and business outlook in detail. Financial planning and reporting covers annual budgeting and quarterly business reviews by Group management including a review of the forecast. Treasury operations, IT operations and mergers and acquisitions (M&A), as an example, are centralised functions in the Group.

The Group's compliance and ethics team supervises and monitors the investigation process.

Risk Management

Risk management is an integral part of the Group's management, supervision and reporting systems. Risk management covers the identification and assessment of risks as well as contingency planning for all significant risks. During 2016 the following principles of Caverion's Risk Management policy were observed:

1) A Group-wide strategic risk assessment is carried out annually. As a result of the assessment, the most important risks are handled in Caverion's Board of Directors and in the Group Management Board. The division level risks are reported as part of the normal monitoring of financial performance. The risks related to the financial reporting process are identified and assessed annually.

The Board of Directors guides and supervises the planning and implementation of risk management. The Audit Committee assists the Board in the supervision of the reporting and accounting processes of the Group, including internal control, risk management and internal audit.

The President and CEO has the overall responsibility for risk management. Group Finance and Governance function organises and plans, develops, coordinates and supervises the risk management as well as its implementation and communication in the entire Group.

2) Divisional management identifies, assesses and monitors the most significant risks in their own fields of business and draws up plans on how to prepare for such risks. In addition, division management is in charge of the implementation and supervision of risk management in their area of responsibility and it reports on risk management to the President and CEO.

3) The Group's financial management is in charge of the identification and assessment of financial risks and reporting to the Group management.
